

Inference Release Candidate 5 Now Available for Download

September 9, 2009

In response to feedback that we've received from users, we've added the following features:

- Updated Training and Support – New iQuickStarts added to assist new users in getting started with Inference
- Inference is now installed for all users (as opposed to the logged-in user only)
- "Show Paragraph Formatting" now turned off when results documents are created
- Reduced file size and increased performance for Inference in Excel (2003) documents
- Logging added to help diagnose export issues
- Icons added to visualize data types

And, we've made the following changes:

- General export error ("An error occurred while opening the Inference in Word Document") fixed
- Results document formatting and whitespace handling cleaned up; results documents should now format properly (this was especially a problem if the code block was set to not output code)
- Word templates no longer have to be read-only to use within Inference in Word
- Getting Started wizard – information billboards now scroll
- Inference Online now properly handles the condition where no internet connection is present
- Many other minor bug fixes

###